

RHODE ISLAND FIRE INSTRUCTORS' ASSOCIATION WELCOMES: PAUL HASHAGEN, FDNY (RET.) 100 YEARS OF VALOR – RESCUE CO. 1

JUNE 4, 2016
10am-1pm
WHERE?

Warwick Firefighters' Association,
750 Warwick Avenue, Warwick, RI

WHAT?

They were a company of men, proven firefighters hand-picked from hundreds of volunteers. Organized in 1915, for the past century, the firefighters of Rescue Company 1 dangled from ropes, dove underwater to rescue those in peril or ventured where no one else could. Based on his book, "100 Years of Valor: Rescue Company 1", respected author and retired member of Rescue 1, Paul Hashagen will recount how these firefighters handled explosives, dangerous chemicals, and controlled toxic leaks in cellars, sub-cellars and in the holds of ships. Their stories are many, their impact impressive and their motto is "OUTSTANDING!"

SEMINAR EVENTS

· Paul Hashagen presents
"The History of Rescue
Operations in the FDNY
Seminar"

· Books available for purchase and signing

· Refreshments, raffles and camaraderie!

HOW MUCH?
ONLY $25

Paul Hashagen has been fighting fires since 1976. In 2003 he retired from the FDNY after twenty-five years of service, with twenty of those years in Rescue Company 1 in Manhattan. He is a former chief of the Freeport Fire Department. Paul, a contributing editor at Firehouse Magazine, has written several books on the history of the fire service. Paul's new column "Distant Fires" appears monthly in Fire Rescue Magazine. Visit his website: www.paulhashagen.com.

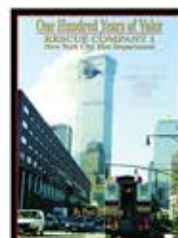

HOW TO REGISTER

Seating is limited. Register by sending a check to:

RIFIA
32 Barber Ave
Warwick, RI 02886-5202

Questions? Contact Fred MacDonald

fmacdonald850@gmail.com (401) 829-6150

RIFIA